The Safety Valve
Trotzky and Pompey
Lindbergh, Only 27
The Average Business Girl

By Arthur Brisbane

IN CATALONIA, where trouble usually starts in Spain, the army has been put in charge and civil rights suspended.

A military court is created to make "newspapers print government propaganda."

Primo De Rivera proceeds in method usual with dictators. He will tell how he compares with Mussolini and Kemal Pasha, real dictators.

Telling newspapers what they must print is like sitting on the safety valve—all right until things blow up.

Napoleon said that if he allowed liberty of the press, he should not last long. He did not allow it and he did not last long.

Trotzky, disillusioned Bolshevik leader, is said to be toasting in a galloon in the Black sea, his ship missing on the way to Turkey.

Trotzky must remind himself of the great Pompey, after his defeat by Caesar, still playing the part of Caesar. But conditions since have improved.

When Pompey took refuge in Egypt, to be met by false friends, he was stabbed in the back, his head cut off, and taken to the young Ptolemy.

Berlin last night reported that Trotzky had probably been murdered, the story about his "trip on a missing ship" being part of a plan to account for his disappearance. That sounds improbable.

Russia is not squeamish about killing anybody whose longer existence seems undesirable.

Lindbergh, on his way from Miami to Panama, "popped off" on his 27th birthday.

Only 27, and his name is known wherever he is. Only 27, and already he has known the ocean and, what is more important, the respect of every man and woman.

This young American's history makes millions of others feel as Caesar did, when he read the life of Alexander the Great and suddenly burst into tears, realizing that Alexander had conquered the world when he was younger than Caesar was then.

"Herbert Hoover may find important aviation work for Lindbergh." Nothing more probable. An engineer knows that somebody who knows how to do what he wants done is valuable.

Mr. Hoover understands the engineering part of flying and all its importance, from mail carrying to national defense.

Col. Lindbergh understands the flying part. A fine combination. Many have would go up in the air if young Lindbergh were put by Mr. Hoover at the head of a separate department for national air defense.

The "average business girl" works and lives in the country's biggest, richest city as follows, according to figures carefully prepared.

She earns $23.56 a week, spends $7.56 for clothing, gives $9.87 to relatives and the church, saves $4.75.

This average business girl spends the greater part of her leisure time in reading, three times as much as in athletics or dancing, 10 times as much as in bridge playing.

You are told that the essentials for a successful working girl are "personality, education, ability, health, happiness." They all count.

But more important is her ability to act as a shock absorber for some nervous individual who thinks he is busy, because he doesn't know how to organize his work.

In Florida, Mr. Hoover will inspect the Lake Okechobee water tract where many were drowned last year, to see what can be done.

The national government controls the waters of Lake Okechobee and will not permit Florida to lower them, by safety canals, below a certain level.

Consequently the government is responsible for damage done when high winds cause an overflow of waters, too high in the lake.

Cardinal O'Connell Indorses Nation-Wide Flag Contest

I HEARTILY indorse the Nation-wide Flag Contest, with its noble object of promoting respect for the American Flag and educating our citizens in their appreciation of American ideals and traditions. The American Flag is a great common bond which unites all Americans regardless of racial distinction or religious belief. The Nation-wide Flag Contest should do much to foster reverence in all citizens for our inspiring national emblem and the ideals of which it is a symbol. I assure you that I wish every success to the Nation-wide Flag contest plan.

GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH DURING POLICE RAID

A leap to death early today from a South End lodging house window by Margaret Rose Hannahan, 34, known also as Marjorie Hamilton, was followed by a police hunt for a man known as Lawrence Reed.

According to Special Officers Francis H. Monahan and John Ladlaw of the police headquarters narcotic squad, the man was in Min Hanover's room in Montgomery st. when they arrived in search of narcotics.

The woman leaped from the window while the police were attempting to gain entrance to her room. Injuries she received resulted in her death at City Hospital.

When the officers returned to the room, they found the woman dead.

Police are now searching for the man who is believed to be the girl's lover.

SEIZED ON ULSTER BORDER

Belfast, Ireland, Feb. 5 (AP)—Eamon De Valera, Irish Republican leader, was arrested at Newry on the Ulster border today while attempting to enter Ulster in contravention of a long-standing order barring him.

De Valera was going to Belfast to open a bazaar, in disregard of the order barring him from Northern Ireland.

De Valera was taken from the Dublin train by the Ulster police who were acting on a ban imposed by the northern government about seven years ago. Only once was this ban relaxed, namely on the occasion of Cardinal O'Donnell's funeral in Arnhem.

Great crowds were awaiting the arrival of the train and learned of De Valera's arrest.

De Valera was taken to Newry and held there.

OSTED STATE CHEMIST ANALYZE 35,000 RUM RAD SAYS

Health Council Hears Protests Over Removal of Rum Analyst

The threat was made by Atty. William E. Weeks, counsel for Crawford, who also declared he would summon Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson and other police officials and officers whose names were mentioned in the letter.

In cross-examination of Herman C. Lythgoe, director of the food and drug division of the state board of health, Atty. Weeks brought out that although Crawford had analyzed about 20,000 samples of liquor, he had only complaints made against only a few.

Lythgoe also admitted under cross-examination that Crawford's chief fault was over-zealousness; that is, that he was not satisfied.

The hearing opened in Gardner Auditorium in the State House. Police officials and personnel who made the complaints which resulted in the removal of Crawford were in attendance.

The former junior state chemist who had been with the state since 1915, was dismissed on charges that he had failed to do his work for which he had failed to obey orders and other charges.

BIGELOW PRESIDES.
Dr. George H. Bigelow, health commissioner, presided over the hearing, composed of James L. Tigue, Gordon Hutchins and two other members.

The council was represented by Atty. Gen. F. Delano Putnam, Atty. Weeks, and Frank A. Goodwin, former registrar of motor vehicles, who was present as a witness.

Atty. Weeks filed a motion for the reinstatement of his client as the grounds that specifically as to the charges of his dismissal were not given as provided by the law. Putnam replied they were contained in the letter of dismissal, "supporting to be written by Dr. Bigelow," and this letter was read into the records over the protests of Atty. Weeks.

DISMISSAL METHODS.
Atty. Putnam called as his first witness Director Lythgoe, who described how liquor samples were taken or sent to the department by police, and how they were labeled. Two samples marked 65085 and 65089 were then introduced. The first, according to the label, being part of a seizure made at Charles A. Chivers, 201 certificates were signed by Crawford, according to the witness, and both samples were labeled "Denatured."

DR. GEORGE H. BIGELOW PRESIDES

Lythgoe testified that he also made analyses of these samples and his figures differed but very little from Crawford's, both showing a high alcoholic content. The witness admitted that he also found fraudulence in the samples, as Crawford had, but denied that it made them unfit for beverage purposes.

Asked if there was a rule or practice in the food and drug division concerning employees doing outside work for private gain, the witness replied: "There is a general understanding."

This aroused Atty. Weeks, who demanded a specific rule, if there was such a thing, and Atty. Putnam, in attempting to pacify him, declared the only intention was to get at the merits of this thing.

"All right," Atty. Weeks replied, "it's no good for me to object."

Dr. Bigelow took exception to this remark, as the ground he felt there was an imputation in it. Atty. Weeks, assured him none was intended.

Evidence that Crawford testified in a big liquor case in U. S. court was given by Judge Johnson and Raymond C. Cummings, two attorneys, who testified the chemist was paid $10 for appearing as an expert in a case where the argument was made in a case where the argument that the liquor in question was imitation and not real. They said Crawford testified to that effect.

COUNSEL AND OUSTED STATE CHEMIST CONFER

Attorney W. H. Weeks and his client, William Crawford (Boston Evening American staff photo), shown at State health council hearing where Weeks moved for Crawford's reinstatement as junior state chemist—demanded that Dr. Bigelow, though chairman of the hearing be compelled to take the witness stand and defend his action in ousting the petitioner.

Some sympathetic thief took him at his word.

The "bribe" money, which was in a small white trunk, was left in the trunk of the car, which was parked in front of the house.

From a ledger upstairs on the fourth floor they learned that a man had dashed through the fire escape.

A map's hat and overcoat and several articles utilized by narcotics men, according to police, were found in a man's possession, together with a letter addressed to "Dear Larry," and asking for "that $2 to pay off that man."

According to Officers Monahan and Ladd, they sighted Reed and the woman known to the South End as Marguerite Hamilton just before midnight and trailed them to the Montgomery street house.

After waiting a short time the officers entered the house and inquired identity of the couple. The lady told them they were registered at the house at "Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reed."

The officers requested her to call the couple out for an interview and the lady consented to the third floor, knocked, gave the police a message and was told by Miss Hamilton through the door to "go" a minute.

There was a sound as of a window opening and Officer Ladd rushed down to the street to block what he thought was an attempt by the man to escape through the window.

ARRESTED OFFER.
Instead he found the woman on the sidewalk of Montgomery street and called Officer Monahan down.

By the time the woman had been sent away to City Hospital the man in the room had fled.

According to police, the dead woman had been arrested several times on narcotic charges and once on a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon. Reed is also known to them.

Miss Hamilton has a widowed mother living in poverty in Hancock street, West End, police say, and the family formerly resided in Lynn. There are also two brothers.

ROBS CHURCH OF MILLION; GETS SEVEN YEARS

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 5 (AP)—Clinton S. Carnow, former treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, whose disappearance last summer led to the discovery of an almost shortage of nearly a million dollars in his accounts and his subsequent arrest in Canada, pleaded guilty in Superior Court today to embezzlement.

He was sentenced to from five to seven years' imprisonment.

In Murder Plot

Staff Writer of the Boston Evening American.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 5—A penitentiary message to "Dear Mary" found on Christopher E. Cullen, alleged wife slayer, was determined by police today to be addressed to his eldest sister, and it was interpreted as a "suicide note."

Cullen, who is still in a critical condition at the Jackson Memorial Hospital, actually intended it for a suicide message, or whether it was to be part of a hoax to cover his trail will be the subject of questioning when he recovers sufficiently to stand more grilling.

"Mary Dear:

"I am awfully sorry I did this, but she made me, and forgive me. Pray for me."

This was penciled on the back of a ticket stub for a Clyde liner between New York and Jacksonville. Cullen is now believed to have made this water trip and then "hooked" a freight train for Miami River, Jacksonville.

PHIANS FREQUENTLY

"Many" it was learned today, is Miss Mary Cullen of Raymond St., East Weymouth, who secured the place of head of the Cullen family after the parents died four years ago.

The pathetic call from him to his sister marked the first of a series of admissions by Cullen that he is now overcome by remorse for the slaying of Cora E. Jacques "Zule," to which crime he has confessed, police declare.

Cullen, detective informed me, now realize the frightfulness of the crime and pray to God to forgive him—not once or a few times, but many times.

Cullen had previously shown no feeling over the crime he confessed to have committed. At first, the police believed Cullen was a cold-blooded criminal; they considered him lacking in all human feeling.

The police found a card in Cullen's papers announcing his engagement to Cora Jacques of Lowell and setting the date of the wedding.

IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Notice has been served on Cullen that "Florida is no sanctuary for the criminal." This is indication that he will be turned over to Hingham authorities without delay and as they arrive here with proper papers.

Cullen is still at the hospital. While he has made a confession according to the police, his condition is not such that he has been able to sign his confession.

By JACK COSWAY
Miami, Fla., Feb. 5—A penitentiary message to "Dear Mary" found on Christopher E. Cullen, alleged wife slayer, was determined by police today to be addressed to his eldest sister, and it was interpreted as a "suicide note."

Cullen, who is still in a critical condition at the Jackson Memorial Hospital, actually intended it for a suicide message, or whether it was to be part of a hoax to cover his trail will be the subject of questioning when he recovers sufficiently to stand more grilling.

"Mary Dear:

"I am awfully sorry I did this, but she made me, and forgive me. Pray for me."

This was penciled on the back of a ticket stub for a Clyde liner between New York and Jacksonville. Cullen is now believed to have made this water trip and then "hooked" a freight train for Miami River, Jacksonville.

The pathetic call from him to his sister marked the first of a series of admissions by Cullen that he is now overcome by remorse for the slaying of Cora E. Jacques "Zule," to which crime he has confessed, police declare.

Cullen, detective informed me, now realize the frightfulness of the crime and pray to God to forgive him—not once or a few times, but many times.

Cullen had previously shown no feeling over the crime he confessed to have committed. At first, the police believed Cullen was a cold-blooded criminal; they considered him lacking in all human feeling.

The police found a card in Cullen's papers announcing his engagement to Cora Jacques of Lowell and setting the date of the wedding.

Notice has been served on Cullen that "Florida is no sanctuary for the criminal." This is indication that he will be turned over to Hingham authorities without delay and as they arrive here with proper papers.

Cullen is still at the hospital. While he has made a confession according to the police, his condition is not such that he has been able to sign his confession.

Girl Saves Painting in $1,000,000 Fire

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—A painting of her mother which 15-year-old Audrey Marx saved from a $1,000,000 fire was her father's favorite. She was the only one to remain today of the Marx mansion on the Hudson.

The 20-room frame and brick dwelling of Otto Marx, financier, filled with valuable paintings, tapestries and books, was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated at $1,000,000.

The portrait of Mrs. Marx as a child was the work of her father, Henry Mosler, noted American artist, who died in 1920, and is best known for his painting, "Washington Crossing the Delaware." Among the paintings destroyed were those of Monet, the Belvedere, and others by Nicholas Maysen and Perier.

Illness Reunites Lew Cody and His Wife

New York, Feb. 5 (INS)—The spectre of serious sickness has drawn the Codys together. Lew Cody, favorite with the ladies on and off the silver screen, today was fighting against a dangerous attack of pneumonia.

Mabel Normand of Hollywood has telephoned New York every day from Los Angeles to learn her husband's condition, according to Lew Cody's manager.

While no one was permitted to communicate with the Cody auto in the Warwick Hotel where the film star's fever is abating, Burke said today.

"He's doing very nicely and improving as rapidly as could be expected," the manager stated.

Cody, during his six years as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer moving picture star, was noted for his romanticism. He has been reported engaged probably more than any other stage or screen celebrity with the exception of Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

IN MANY ROMANCES

Once it was the late Nora Bayne, while they were both abroad and died in an automobile accident.

"We were thrown into each other's arms," said Lew, who also has a cute reputation for wit.

And even before his sudden marriage to Miss Normand in 1926, Cody was reported engaged to Mrs. May Ayer.

Born at Waterville, Me., 24 years ago, Cody played stock at North Adams, Mass., before becoming prominent on Broadway. He met Dorothy Dalton of Chicago, the future film actress, in vaudeville and they were married and later divorced.

NAMED AS "VILLAIN"
Cody won a "scandalizing" reputation as a movie screen villain. His parts called for "home wailing." Until he was cast in other roles, Cody always protested against being called "a he-man."

When her star hung highest, Mabel Normand, once of Atlanta, Ga., but better known as the independent star in Hollywood due to unfavorable publicity.

When her star hung highest, this dark-eyed Atlanta girl was unfortunately mentioned in connection with the William Desmond Taylor murder in Hollywood. And later her chauffeur shot Courland S. Dyer, wealthy Detroit man. However, she was cleared of any blame in both cases.

A car crash is told. Here you see a picture of the late Nora Bayne. That's the way it all ended.

COOLIDGE WILL NOT VETO NEW CRUISER BILL

Washington, Feb. 5 (INS)—President Coolidge is highly dissatisfied with the new cruiser bill as it now exists in the Senate—with the mandatory time limit for beginning construction—but it was strongly indicated at the White House today that he would not veto it.

The President explained to callers that as Chief Executive he signs many bills of which he does not wholly approve. It was indicated he considers the cruiser bill in this category.

It was further said the Senate did not necessarily need to impose the time limit upon the Executive, for Mr. Coolidge intended to proceed with the building anyway of a substantial number of the 15 cruisers authorized.

Joseph A. Defreese of Chicago Dead

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Joseph H. Defreese, chairman of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and prominent lawyer and business man of Chicago, died here today after an operation for appendicitis.

'SLASHER' RIPS COAT OF 6TH GIRL VICTIM

The "subway slasher" claimed a sixth girl victim today when the clothing of Miss Charlotte Mearns, 14 of Sydney St., Dorchester, was cut at Summer station of the Washington at tunnel.

According to the girl she discovered the slasher in her car on the line just after a weekday youth of about 22 had been acting nervously while standing close to her in the station.

She did not notice the cut until she alighted from her train at state st. and felt the cold air on her legs.

Miss Mearns reported the slasher to her superior at the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. office where she is employed as a stenographer.

According to the girl she was talking with her sister only last night about the slasher and remarked that she did not fear him.

She described the youth as 22 years old, five feet six inches tall, weighing 150 pounds, dark complexion and wearing a light brown overcoat and brown cap.

SIX HOP FROM HUB TO HAVANA ON VACATION

In a near subzero temperature last night for some Miami and Havana, six Boston passengers in a four-ton, 14-horsepower motorboat hopped from the Boston airport today.

They were bound on the first Boston Florida air excursion this season and will be gone from 10 days to two weeks.

Moving up the party were Maj. Charles A. Mally of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company and Lt. J. V. Vane of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

Capt. W. C. Brown owner of the plane, was a controls, taking off with Ralph Winkfield, chief pilot of the Curtis Flying Service of New Bedford, Inc., who rented the ship as a pilot.

James Crowley of the Curtis service was in the mechanic's seat. The hop was made at 7:50 a. m. into a heavy, biting wind that whipped the airport.

The first stop of the trip was to New York and the second Washington, where another passenger will remain in Restonville, N. C. From Fayetteville, the plane will proceed tomorrow to Jacksonville, Fla. where a stop will be made for gas, and then will take off again for Miami.

At Miami the air tourists will transfer immediately to a two-motor biplane, in which Ralph Winkfield will pilot them to Havana, arriving before dark tomorrow night.

The itinerary includes visits also to Nassau and Trinidad Bay. One back in Miami the party will transfer to the return hop to the Hub.

Urne Has'th Building
Authority for Boston to construct in the Boston Forest a school building to house the city's north department was urged at a legislative hearing today by Health Commissioner Francis N. Mahoney.

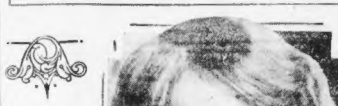

Charges that the recommendation of the special recess commission of Boston's voting laws prior to election day never went through with the changes they made that many illegal voters had been uncovered.

Donahue expressed the opinion that the registration lists in Boston are good as any other lists in the country. He suggested if the committee did not kill the bill, it would recommend attaching a referendum to the people.

The League of Women Voters, which the election returns in our Boston precinct showed the number of voters to be in excess of the registration.

Thomas H. Ribbeau legislative counsel for Boston, complained the registration work would cost the city $125,000.

SHE'LL LEAD YALE PROM

Arthur W. White, 22, who was arrested today on charges of robbing a motor vehicle, was held in jail at $100 for a hearing Friday.

White was taken into custody by officers who found him at his home on Eawson rd., Brookline. His arrest followed the discovery by Newton police of a quantity of alleged loot, which had been sold to a Boston second-hand dealer.

White's home was entered two weeks ago by thieves who broke a rear window. Clothing and jewelry valued at more than $500 was taken.

Three other residences on the same street were also looted on the same date.

A second youth was arrested and arraigned today as young Anderson's accomplice.

The latter defendant gave his name as Arthur G. Anderson, but said he was no relation to Earle Anderson.

Arthur was arrested at his home on White st., Waverly. He gave his age as 22. He also was held in jail for a hearing Friday.

ARREST KIN OF VICE CONSUL AS BURGLAR

Earle E. Anderson, 21-year-old nephew of Charles W. Anderson, Swedish vice-consul at Boston, was arrested today charged with burglary of his uncle's home on Waban Hill rd., Newton.

Anderson pleaded not guilty in Newton court and offered an alibi. He was held in jail at $100 for a hearing Friday.

The young defendant was taken into custody by officers who found him at his home on Eawson rd., Brookline. His arrest followed the discovery by Newton police of a quantity of alleged loot, which had been sold to a Boston second-hand dealer.

Would Put Hit-Run Men in Jail for Five Years

Hit-and-run drivers were charged today by a legislative committee with five years with no right to appeal.

These drivers are the great menace confronting the public, he said. The committee statutes do not meet the situation properly. The punishment for hitting persons and leaving should be made so severe that drivers would think twice.

MAN SHOT BY FRIEND DIES

Rochester, N. H., Feb. 5 (AP)—Frank N. Pender, 46, of Northwood, died today in the Rochester Hospital from gunshot wounds suffered while hunting with Milford Scott of Northwood. Pender was wounded by a charge from Scott's gun.

The latter, thinking he had killed Pender, summoned Medical Officer Forest Key of Rochester, but when he returned to the spot where the body lay found him alive.

Pender was taken to the hospital where it was thought he might live. The shooting was held to be accidental and Scott was not arrested.

MANY PRIESTS AT FUNERAL OF FR. WALSH

Funeral services were held in St. Mary's Church, Dorcham, today for the parish's veteran pastor, the Rev. Henry A. Walsh.

Catholic clergymen from every section of Greater Boston were present as were representatives of religious and fraternal societies. Public officials of Dorcham, Boston, and the commonwealth were also among the mourners.

Solemn requiem high mass was sung at 10 o'clock. The celebrant was the Rev. William McNamara, pastor of the Holy Name Church of West Roxbury. He was assisted by the Rev. John A. Butler of St. Mary's Church, Cambridge, and the Rev. James Doherty of St. Cath.

The Rev. Fr. Butler presided over the liturgy. The Rev. Anthony J. Laverty and the Rev. James A. Doyle were acolytes; the Rev. Francis X. Sullivan of the Immaculate Conception Church, Haverhill, was in charge of the choir; and the Rev. Robert E. Lee master of ceremonies.

Cardinal O'Connor gave final absolution at the close of the services. The funeral procession was headed by a detachment of members of Bishop Heverius, fourth degree of the Order of Columbus, and a large body of clergymen.

The mass was sung by the choir.

Private choir directed by the Rev. J. J. Lannert of the Gate of the Church, South Boston. Miss McLaughlin acted as organist. Miss Ann V. Walsh and Thomas Walsh, both of Haverhill, sister and brother of the dead man, represented the Walsh family. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

MAINE INMATES OF ASYLUM NOT WEAK-MINDED

Many persons claimed by the state department of mental diseases to be feeble-minded and committed to institutions are not feeble-minded, the legislative committee on legal affairs was told today at a hearing on the question of permitting this class of persons to marry.

This protest was uttered by Susan E. Stevens, chairman of the legislative committee of the Order of Patriotic Dames, who declared: "The department has too much power now, and the methods of content are too easy."

She cited cases where persons had been freed from control of the department by marrying after temporary release from an institution.

The recommendation that feeble-minded persons under commitment to an institution be considered incapable of contracting marriage was made by Dr. George M. Kilian, commissioner of mental diseases.

Dr. Theodore A. Hoch said the present law applies only to insane and idiots. He told of a girl patient placed on parole, who married a boy of 19, and the state could find no way to annul the marriage.

Such a condition, if it is permitted to continue, will eventually break down the entire system of parole for the feeble-minded," he said. "The feeble-minded differ from the insane and idiotic in that they are usually a high type of moron."

FIFTH CHAMPA SUSPECT HELD

While the hunt for the murder car used in the slaying of Arthur Champa, North End gangster, continued today, police took into custody a Revere youth suspected of being one of the five other men believed to have taken part in the murder.

The youth was taken from his home in Revere police headquarters by Officers John Hanigan and Ernest Connolly, and Special Officer Thomas Keating of the Boston Flying Squad, who was notified, hurried to a Revere to question him.

Kane's Love Nesters on Air Tonight

Kane's Love Nesters, a new local radio program starting the Bride and Groom, soloists, and a 12-piece dance orchestra, one of the most popular musical organizations in the city, will make their bow to the radio audience this evening from the station station WVEE from 8 to 8:30 o'clock.

The jelled sponsored by Kane Furniture Company will be a regular feature from this station each Tuesday evening. The sponsors plan to present each week special arrangements of newest, together with the most melodious, old-time song selections. In tonight's program the Love Nesters play "Put 'em Up Your Overalls" and "My Lucky Star," from the Broadway success "Follow Thru."

Change in Primary System Is Opposed

Vigorous opposition to substituting nominations in party conventions for the present primary system of nominating candidates for attorney-general, auditor, treasurer and secretary of state, was voiced at a legislative hearing today by Chairman Frank J. Donahue of the Democratic State committee and others.

Mrs. W. Morton Wheeler placed the League of Women Voters against the bill. Another source came from former State Treasurer Charles L. Burdell of Boston. Senator Henry L. Kinnealy of Quincy, for the bill, said the present system does not keep the parties strong enough "because there is nothing to do between elections."

Blind Boys Held for Robbery Released

Harry McGushy of Taunton and Frank Radominski of Springfield, sightless boys arrested several days ago for the alleged looting of a candy cash drawer at the Perkins Institute for the Blind where they were pupils, were released by the Waltham court today. Lacking both defendants had been confined in the East Cambridge jail.

Charges of breaking and entering against the youths were dropped and larceny charges were placed on file. Both boys, having been expelled from the Perkins school, were sent home.

Crawls in Ice Chest, Stabs Self With Fork

Crawling into an ice chest in his home today, Anton Nikala, 38, of Park ave., Quincy, stabbed himself with a table fork, according to police, who rushed to the home in response to a telephone call for help.

They took Nikala to the Quincy Hospital and later to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation. He complained to the police of having been ill for a long time and of having "terrible pains."

Girl, 7, Dies From Coasting Accident

Injuries sustained while coasting Sunday were responsible for the death of Ellen Barrett, 7, of 28 West 3rd st., South Boston, at Boston City Hospital today.

She was coasting in G. S. when her sled skidded and struck an iron fence. The child was the daughter of Albert G. Barrett.

The Curious Cameraman He Asks a Question and Pic- tures Those Questioned

THE QUESTION

Should the fees be increased to provide funds for the further extension of the proposed rapid transit system?

ALFRED TURNER, 25 Winthrop rd., Newton, chain store owner—I believe that the proposed plan should allow the elevated to increase the fares if it will better the service now being given between Boston and Newton. The present cost of riding on the elevated trains is between two and three cents, where on the street cars it is a dime, but if the elevated furnish as good service, they should be enabled to increase their fares.

MARY O'DONNELL, 25 East Cottage st., Roxbury, stenographer—The fare on the elevated should not be increased, in my opinion. My reason for this is because the elevated will be patronized more when the proposed extension will be made. It is not fair for the people that now patronize the elevated to have to pay more for the same service. The neighboring cities and towns should help pay for the extension, insuring that would derive the benefit of this service.

HENRY JOYCE, 365 Cherry st., West Newton, contractor—I am not in favor of the elevated increasing the fare. I believe that the proposed rapid transit system, I believe that each city or town that would be served with the system should appropriate a sum that would help defray the expense of installing the new service. It would be more equitable to have the districts that would benefit financially and also increase the population. The local business firms would be able to increase their sales.

GRACE SAMMS, 95 Brook ave., Jamaica Plain, hairdresser: The present fare should be still maintained in Boston. If the elevated wants to further the service by the means of the rapid transit system, in a short time the money in needed would be paid back by the additional patrons that would use the service. Many commuters that now use the street cars would be glad to use the E. I. as it would bring many closer to their place of employment, and shoppers right to the heart of the city.

EARL BAILEY, 18 Ashburton pl., Boston, elevator operator: The elevated should not be allowed to increase the fare for funds to increase the rapid transit extension. In time the traffic that would be carried over there they would gradually pay for itself. In other large cities, where the fares are much more than here, Boston, one can ride as many as 25 miles for five cents.

"Reducing" Exercise Lays Up 3 Of Quincy Police

The new course for reducing the Quincy police force reduced temporarily by three officers. After one day of strenuous exercise in an effort to give the coppers some new ideas, Officer Thomas Brennan is out with a tender rib, and Officer James O'Connell and John O'Brien are out with sprained knees.

Half a dozen other officers couldn't chase a burglar, holdup man or other miscreant, so have with "charlie horses" are they.

FITZ PRAISES CATHOLICS IN CAMPAIGN

Hudson, Feb. 5.—Catholic church leaders were praised for their pole under fire of "bigotry" during the last presidential campaign in an address by ex-Mayor John F. Fitz Gerald of Boston, delivered here in the State armory.

The former Boston mayor, principal guest at the parish reunion of St. Michael's Church, declared: "I never was so proud of my faith as I am today. The last presidential campaign ended with bigotry and intolerance against the Catholic church, yet through it all the leaders never lost their poise and so convinced themselves as to win the admiration and respect of the civilized world."

OPEN BOOK.

The story of the Catholic church in this country is an open book. There is nothing to conceal. I thrive on persecution because its members know it stands for truth, justice and human rights. Its growth in New England, and at times seemingly against insuperable odds, is amazing.

I remember hearing the late Archbishop Williams say on the occasion of his golden jubilee that as a boy he could call the Catholics in Boston by their first name. Now they number 1,000,000 souls and their number, with thousands of priests and sisters, and hundreds of churches, schools, hospitals and other institutions.

PROOF OF CHURCH.

The last religious census showed that the attendance at the Roman Catholic churches in New England was twice as much as all other denominations combined.

"Send women who are really Christian should be proud of the manner in which the Catholic church holds its adherents, particularly here in Puritan New England, because if it were not for the Catholic price outstripping church membership, the church with worshipping Christians, church attendance would be lamentable."

"Men and women who believe in God and in Christ, who believe that all churches should be united against the common enemy, who believe that all churches should be sent to the scrap heap."

YOUNG FOLK STIRRED BY HEARST TEMPERANCE CONTEST

PLANS FROM ALL PARTS OF UNITED STATES POUR IN

Plans for the contest of highly spirited conception on time to be held from 11 p.m. of the world, from the cold north to the hot tropics, the $25,000 prize contest to be held on the 11th of February, 1929, at the Boston Evening American and other Boston papers.

Costs Lynn Boy $1.95 for Cop's Shirt He Ruined While Drunk

Alphonse L. Lorne, 18-year-old son of Mrs. Lorne, 1000 E. 1st St., was fined $1.95 in court today for having ruined a cop's shirt while drunk and was ordered to pay $1.95 to reimburse Patrick Lorne for his shirt which was wrecked while he was in the police station.

"How long do you think it will take you to pay $1.95 if you are not paid," inquired Judge H. H. Pike. "I don't know," replied the boy. "You'll stay in a month at the police station," snapped the judge.

Sentence of 30 days in the House of Corrections was imposed. Lorne was not paid $1.95 for his shirt.

"The TAXI DANCER"

Six-Day Novel by a Famous Author

It was a quiet, unassuming little town, nestled in the heart of the Adirondacks. The town was known for its beautiful scenery and its peaceful atmosphere. It was a place where time seemed to stand still, and where the people lived in harmony with nature.

CHAPTER I
The first of the six days began with a quiet dawn. The sun was just rising over the mountains, and the air was fresh and cool. The people of the town were still asleep, and the only sound was the gentle rustle of the leaves.

Faith Takes Jack to Task for Treatment of Janie

"You must, I suppose," the little girl said, looking up at her mother. "You can leave me out of it."

"No, you mustn't do that," her mother said. "You are a part of this family, and you must be treated as such."

"But I don't want to be," the girl said. "I don't want to be like the other children in the town."

"Why not?" her mother asked. "What is wrong with being like the other children?"

"I don't want to be like them," the girl said. "I don't want to be like the other children in the town."

Some men are like a window—they're nothing but a pain, and easy to see through.

According to the prosecutor, evidence will be produced to show that the woman in the picture is the same woman who was seen in the picture in the picture.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want-Read Ads. That's the way to get it.

Frocks that fit into any wardrobe, and last over from season to season with equal smartness, are always welcomed by busy women. These include both youthful and gracious matronly styles.

ALL CHILDREN URGED TO ENTER PATRIOTIC FLAG CONTEST

UNIQUE PLAN PRAISED BY CARDINAL O'CONNELL

The National Flag Contest, which is being held in all parts of the country, is a unique plan, and is being praised by Cardinal O'Connell. The contest is a patriotic one, and is designed to encourage children to love and respect the American flag.

What has the United States done to make it particularly worthy of your love and your devotion? Why are we patriotic? Why does everyone instinctively love and revere the American flag? These are the questions that the contest is designed to answer.

Invitations already have been sent to all children in the country. The contest is a patriotic one, and is designed to encourage children to love and respect the American flag.

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, battles Armand Emanuel here tonight over the 10-round route. Loughran's title is not at stake in the fray as both fighters are well over the light-heavy limit. A tremendous throng is to watch the go. The cleverness of Loughran gives him a slight edge, though Emanuel has shown enough in his fights during the last year to be a dangerous opponent for any man.

Winter Track C

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Plans to settle all as to where the winter and the 1932 Olympic games held by conducting them at Col. William M. Garland, president of the California Tennis and Association has advised American Olympic Association there are facilities for hold
